

 Luminate
The Largest Knowledge Bank in Africa!

The Background

Before COVID-19 came to our consciousness, forcing us to adapt to new ways of living, virtual learning has been on a steady rise, being the preferred choice for millions of international students across the world. With the new reality we face, it has become the major way to continue learning.

This has led to a rise in demand for educational content that serves learners across all levels and platforms that facilitate the aggregation and consumption of local learning content.
